

Dahl Studio Music Pathway[©]

Audiation-based music learning for every age, stage, and ability!

Prenatal Music and Movement Classes

This class is for expecting parents who wish to begin their child's musical journey at it's foundation - in utero. In addition to guided gentle and restorative Vinyasa Flow based movements by a certified yoga instructor, each class uses meditative world music and research based guidance to help parents know how to support their child's musical growth at the very earliest stage!

Music Together Mixed Age Classes

Family style classes for newborn to 5 year olds with Music Together's award winning take home materials. 25 new songs every 3 months, each with a beautifully illustrated songbook and memory page! 3 free instruments for every registered child throughout the year!

Music Moves Classes

Drop-off 45 minute semi-private class for 6-10 year olds capped at 4 students, focused on discerning and labeling tonal modes and rhythmic meters to create a working internal music vocabulary. Students are taught more advanced music theory, improvisation, and technique on the piano using esteemed Laban methods of weight, space time, and free vs bound movements. This class includes a group class and recital with the Private Studio.

Music Together Parents of New Babies Classes

One semester class especially for newborn to 9 month olds and the grownups who love them. (Child must be under 7 months at registration.) Parents will learn how to support their child's musical growth at the time of their child's most intense period of brain building! Tuition includes Music Together's Lullaby collection and a free instrument to start your at-home collection!

Private Studio Classes

Students use their audiation foundation to recognize chord progressions and tonal and rhythmic patterns as they read notation with understanding and compose their own music. Advanced music theory is taught as well as music history. Lessons are 45 minutes with 15 minutes devoted to duo work with another student. Service performance opportunities as well as a group class and recital give our most advanced students opportunities to experience the joy of sharing their music with our wider Las Vegas community.
